EVENT OVERVIEW

The ConFab, now entering its 15th year, has distinguished itself as the premier annual conference and networking event for executives involved in semiconductor manufacturing and design.

The ConFab connects equipment, material, software and service suppliers with influential decision makers from fabs, IDMs, OEMs, OSATs and fabless/design companies. It features dynamic networking opportunities, presentations from industry experts and strategic business meetings.

The ConFab 2018 was very useful in getting close to the actual decision makers in the semiconductor business. Rather than lining up at trade shows to try to meet the right person, it is much more focused and targeted to making business opportunities.

— Director of Services, Products, Global Services, BISTel, Inc.

WHY YOU SHOULD PARTICIPATE

HIGH-CALIBER CONFERENCE PROGRAM

The conference program, chaired by Solid State Technology Editor-in-Chief, Pete Singer, offers a unique blend of market insights, technology forecasts and strategic assessments of the challenges and opportunities facing the semiconductor manufacturing and design industry.

CONNECT WITH THE RIGHT PEOPLE

The ConFab brings together the most important spenders in the world. VIP attendees from Intel, Samsung, TSMC, SK Hynix, Micron, UMC, SMIC, GLOBALFOUNDRIES, Infineon, NXP, and others. These companies represent the top purchasing power in the $100 billion plus equipment and materials market.

NETWORK WITH THE BEST

The ConFab is the ONLY conference dedicated to connecting suppliers with key executives at semiconductor manufacturing, fabless and OSAT companies.

ENGAGE IN STRATEGIC BUSINESS MEETINGS WITH PRE-QUALIFIED BUYERS

Suppliers create crucial alliances for the future during private, pre-scheduled boardroom meetings with qualified purchasing decision makers and influencers. These meetings offer an efficient and highly effective approach to conducting face-to-face business in a global industry.

The ConFab continues to bring the industry's leaders together to discuss the challenges and opportunities facing it today and tomorrow. Great content. Meaningful topics. Entertaining speakers.

— Corporate Marketing, BISTel, Inc.

The ConFab 2018 covered a broad range of economic topics for the semiconductor industry, from geopolitical forces, to heterogeneous integration, to automotive trends, to big data in the fabs.

— Dir. Process Technology & Foundry Mfg., Microchip

The ConFab 2018 was a great conference overall, with industry leaders and influencers presenting on extremely relevant topics.

— Process Development Engineer, Micron Technology

An excellent opportunity to hear about progress in A.I. adoption and its implications for the semiconductor industry's economics and technology roadmap.

— Co-Founder, Silicon Catalyst

Excellent content and cutting-edge presentations from a broad range of industry experts.

— Vice President, Texas Operations, Qorvo

ATTENDEE PROFILE

I felt the ConFab 2018 was very successful, and the Cosmopolitan of Las Vegas was an excellent venue for the Conference. The pace of the entire event was very conducive in generating networking opportunities throughout the whole industry supply chain. I found the speakers to be knowledgeable in their field of expertise and able to provide very good presentations allowing attendees to catch up on upcoming advanced technologies; while also identifying areas of rapid growth in the semiconductor industry.

I found all this information to be very insightful and beneficial to me and my business.

— President & CEO, Siliconware USA
